FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Aviation Career Signing Day Event During South Carolina's Aviation Week

Columbia, S.C. – South Carolina Aviation Week is April 23-29, 2023. The South Carolina Aviation Association, in partnership with South Carolina Aeronautics Commission, is celebrating this week with a series of events that highlight the impact aviation has on economic development and educational initiatives.

“The promotion of Aviation week helps develop intentional pathways for promoting interest in aviation and engages students to pursue aviation at some level,” said South Carolina Aviation Association President, Kevin Howell.

One of the educational based Aviation Week events taking place is an Aviation Career Signing Day being held at Jim Hamilton – L.B. Owens Airport in Columbia, SC on Wednesday, April 26, 2023, at 10am. Students from the Lexington/Richland School District Five in Columbia have committed to aviation careers. Two seniors will be participating in the signing day event on April 26.
